

MOTHERS, SISTERS, DAUGHTERS: Standing on Their Shoulders

A Retreat with Edwina Gateley

La Salette Retreat Center, Attleboro, MA

June 26- 30, 2017

During this retreat Edwina will share stories and poetry about women from different walks of life around the globe who have made a difference in the world. We will enter the lives of some amazing women - both living and dead - environmentalists, poets, politicians, mystics, social activists, women in Scripture, martyrs and even some unknown and contemporary women whose witness, courage and faithfulness will inspire and guide us on our own journeys. We will come to stand on the shoulders of these prophets and valiant women as we celebrate our own stories and possibilities!

Edwina Gateley is a poet, mystic, mother, lay missionary, advocate, international speaker and author of 15 books. Her journey of faith has led her to Uganda where she established a school for girls, to the founding of the Volunteer Missionary Movement which has sent over 1700 women and men to 26 countries on five continents, to sojourning to the Sahara Desert to pray, and also to the streets of Chicago to minister to women in prostitution. Her story is like no other!

Overnight Fee: $350 includes retreat and accommodations for 4 nights and 11 meals.
